

Leading the world in quality material handling products for lift trucks.

Cascade is the world leader in the design and manufacture of material handling equipment for lift trucks. Our attachments and forks help a truck lift, sideload, rotate, tilt, and clamp appliances, paper rolls, textiles, lumber and other products.

In business for more than 70 years, Cascade touches virtually every lift truck dealer and OEM in the world. Chances are, Cascade products have handled almost every item in your home at some point in the supply chain, from the gallon of milk in your fridge to the insulation in your walls.

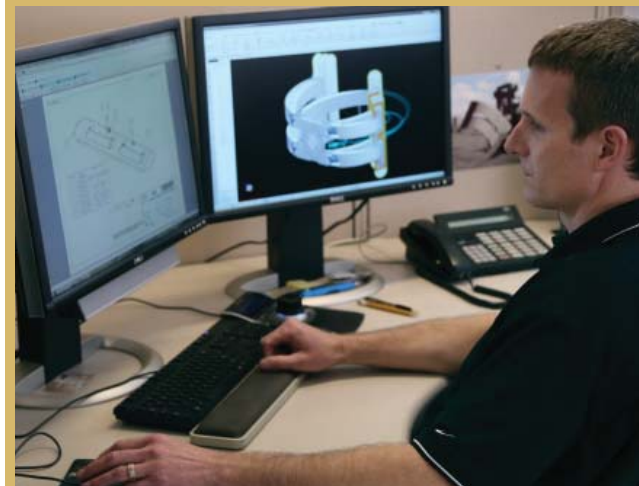

Industry Leaders

Quality and Commitment

Cascade uses a unique combination of manufacturing concepts to achieve high levels of productivity and quality. By focusing on the customer instead of the process, we're able to dominate the market in speed, cost management and customer service. Our global reach enables us to work closely with customers everywhere.

Our state of the art information systems allow our employees in North America, Europe and Asia Pacific to collaborate 24-7. When an engineering team anywhere in the world designs a new attachment, the drawings are immediately available at every location.

"We have them covered, from the smallest local customer to the largest global customer."
- Richard Anderson, Chief Operating Officer

“Centered, steady leadership has built this company and my career here.”

- Steve Yeager, Maintenance (27 years at Cascade)

Working Together

Cascade employees work across the continents to share their experience in developing a single product. When a port in Sweden needed giant paper roll clamps to handle eight rolls at a time without damage, our hydraulic experts in Oregon worked with the structural design team in The Netherlands to design the ultimate Tower Clamp.

“The two great challenges facing any company, large or small, are to have satisfied customers and satisfied employees. It took us a long time to reduce it all to these simple truths.”

- Robert Warren Sr., Founder

Our products are a crucial part of the global supply chain. The world's largest companies depend on Cascade products, from Shanghai to Chicago.

Products

As innovators in our industry, we continually incorporate new technologies into products that meet the demands of our customers' specialized applications.

Just one example of our cutting edge solutions is designing attachments that pair with Self-Guided Vehicles—SGVs (photo right).

Innovative Solutions

Affordable Solutions

Cascade offers competitive monthly rates on a wide range of attachments for both short-term and long-term rental. All units are the highest quality and are maintained, regularly updated, inspected and tested prior to delivery. Customized options are available for long-term rental commitments.

Our Rent-to-Own program allows businesses to apply a percentage of the rental amount already paid towards the purchase price, when they make the decision to buy.

Short-Term & Long-Term Rentals

Take Cascade for a Second Spin.

Invest in pre-owned attachments and save money. Our Remanufactured Attachments go through a rigorous process to ensure they are returned to factory specifications. We disassemble, clean and shot blast each attachment (in the Americas), then inspect and repair welds and parts, replace hoses and fittings, and test.

Considering upgrading an attachment? Cascade offers a Buyback Program to help make that decision easier, contact us for more information.
